

Consent for Insecure Communications

Communications over the internet and/or using traditional email systems are inherently insecure. Confidentiality and integrity of information transmitted in this manner cannot be assured. If you wish to communicate with our office using non-secure systems, such as but not limited to: Skype, text/sms messaging, email, and/or other platforms, you must read and complete this form.

Electronic/internet-based communications are intended to facilitate greater efficiency in managing your needs as a client of The Diversity Initiative and are not intended as a substitute to meetings or phone calls. If the information is urgent or emergent, you should speak to your coach or his/her supervisor.

I [] understand and acknowledge that communications over the internet or using general, non-secure electronic systems, such as but limited to email, are not encrypted and are inherently insecure. I understand that there is no assurance of confidentiality or integrity of information when communicating in this manner. I understand that all email sent to The Diversity Initiative may be forwarded to other health care providers for purposes of providing treatment or other purposes as explicitly permitted by law. I agree to hold The Diversity Initiative and all individuals associated with it harmless from any and all claims and/or liabilities associated with, related to, or arising from this service. Further, TDI reserves the right to restrict this service to those who adhere to these guidelines; you may withdraw your consent at any time by providing written notice.
